

Peeyush Bajpai is the Co-Founder and CEO of Raftaar.com - The First Integrated Hindi Search Engine. He has been involved in developing Indian language technology solutions for effective utilization of the Internet. Mr. Bajpai has conducted a number of research studies on education, health, water and sanitation, and other development issues for organizations like The World Bank, Harvard University, UNCTAD, etc. Mr. Bajpai has also authored a number of books and research articles on development issues. Mr. Bajpai has a graduate degree in engineering from NIT, Jamshedpur and a postgraduate degree in international business management from Lucknow University.